A Special Message to Farmers . . .

New Supergrow from Eastern lets you put more money in the bank and less money in the ground.

GREENVILLE-SPARTANBURG AREA farmers and dealers are served from our plant just off I-85 at Greer.

CHARLOTTE AREA: President Francis Willis talks with a customer at our plant on Hwy. 74 near Wingate, N.C.

GREENSBORO AREA customers receive full service from our third plant food plant located at Sophia, N. C.

Only one plant food formulated in North or South Carolina lets you apply exactly the nutrients your crop, field and yield call for – and nothing more. It's SUPERGROW, the prescription plant food that never adds anything you don't need to soil. You can be sure of that because SUPERGROW is based on our in-house computer analysis of your soil and your need.

If you've known us up to now mainly as distribution experts, SUPERGROW will change that. You'll look to us from now on as plant food specialists who provide you with the exact formula – out of 160,000 possibilities – that makes every crop a money crop!

These Steps Make Every Plant Food Penny Pay Off:

1. Using one of our four-wheel-drive vehicles equipped for automated soil sampling, trained personnel take soil samples for independent laboratory analysis.
2. The on-site computer at our nearest plant uses this analysis to select from 160,000 possibilities the one nutrient combination that gives you only what you need.
3. Automated controls at each location precisely meter out those nutrients for the plant food "prescription" that feeds your crop with no waste.
4. This means you spend money only for the plant food you need for the yield you want — never for nutrients already present — and you bank the rest.

TWO MEN YOU CAN CALL ON to begin your relationship with our Plant Food Division are Executive Vice President/Sales Harold Segars (left) and President Francis Willis (right).

For the fourth consecutive year, Clemson's football programs received a national award from the College Sports Information Directors of America. The 1975, 1976, and 1977 publications were tabbed among the top five in America by a panel of experts. Last year, Clemson finished second to Notre Dame, the first-place winner the last two years.

Today's Game

By Tim Bourret

Georgia and Clemson will both strive for a goal that has been uncharacteristic of each school's respective programs recently when the two squads face off for the 48th time this afternoon. The Bulldogs and the Tigers won 20 games between them in 1978, but both squads will attempt to end losing streaks in today's game. Clemson saw its 11-game victory skein snapped by Maryland last week, while Clemson's ACC rival Wake Forest shocked the country by defeating the Bulldogs in Athens, Ga. 22-21.

Although the borderline state rivals suffered losses on the same day last week, the similarities end there. Clemson was involved in a defensive struggle with the Terrapins, but Georgia and Wake Forest combined for 963 yards in total offense in the Deacons' triumph. By comparison, the Tigers and Terrapins gained only 418 yards between them.

Clemson recorded what might be a Tiger record eight quarterback sacks against Maryland's Mike Tice. Steve Durham led the way with four of these important tackles behind the line of scrimmage for 30 negative yards. The junior from Greer has been outstanding for the Tigers in the early going and his play has not gone unnoticed by Head Coach Danny Ford.

"Durham is playing the finest football of his career by far," said Ford. "He worked very hard in the off-season and came back ready to play from the opening whistle. He and Stuckey give us quite a good combination at defensive tackle."

Stuckey was another mainstay for the Tigers against Maryland. He recorded a pair of tackles for losses and made 14 total tackles to lead the tigers in hits. The Cayce, S. C. native is on his way to an All-American season.

Ford also singled out Jeff Davis, Charlie Bauman and Eddie Geathers for outstanding play against the Terps. The former two each had a key quarterback sack, while Geathers had a touchdown saving tackle when Charlie Wysocki got loose for a 45-yard scamper.

That Tiger defense will have to turn in another stellar performance today if Clemson is to defeat the Bulldogs for the fourth time since 1915. When Georgia has the ball today's fans will see the unstoppable force meeting the immoveable object.

The Bulldogs gained nearly 400 yards against the Demon Deacons last week and the distribution of the yardage was nearly equally divided between passing and rushing. Georgia coach Vince Dooley is blessed with a pair of outstanding quarterbacks in Buck Belue and Jeff Pyburn. Last week, Pyburn started, but it was Belue who did most of the passing. The sophomore, who came off the bench to pass for the winning touchdown in a nationally televised victory over Georgia Tech last year, completed 12 of 21 passes for 151 yards against Wake Forest.

Pyburn, who was a running back on Georgia's SEC championship team in 1976, hit on four of eight aerials for 63 yards against Wake Forest. The senior from Athens, who recently married the 1978 winner of the Miss Georgia Beauty Pageant, was the architect of the Bulldog's 12-0 triumph over the Tigers last season.

"Georgia has an added advantage in that you have to prepare for two quarterbacks," said Ford. "And they are both great all-around athletes. You can't say, well Georgia will pass when one is in and run when another is in. Sure, there are tendencies, but just when you think you might have them figured out, they cross you up."

Both Belue and Pyburn showed what outstanding athletes they are last spring when they starred for the Bulldog baseball team. Belue led the team in homeruns with 13 to break Pyburn's old circuit clout mark, and was the only freshman to be named to the All-SEC team. Pyburn hit a solid .280 and led the team in stolen bases with 14.

The presence of an outstanding offensive line and some very exciting receivers make Pyburn and Belue's job a little easier. Lindsay Scott is the best wide receiver Clemson fans will see all season. The sophomore split end, who set a Georgia Freshman record last year when he led the team in receiving with 36 catches, caught eight for 137 yards in his first game this season, disproving any ideas of sophomore jinx problems. for 1978 attended the same high school (Wayne County in Jesup, Ga.) as Clemson quarterback Billy Lott. Jay Russell and Amp Arnold, both high school teammates of Pyburn, are two other capable receivers.

Ray Donaldson headlines an outstanding offensive line. According to Coach Dooley," Ray Donaldson is the best center I have had at Georgia." A first-team linebacker as a freshman, Donaldson made the switch to center in 1977 and received instant notoriety.

Although Georgia gave up over 550 yards in total offense last week, the Bulldogs do have some fine defenders. Six players return from last year's defensive team that shut out the Tigers. Scott Woerner is the finest on that unit and is one of the best in the country. The junior from Jonesboro, Ga. got off to a good start last week as he returned a first-quarter Wake Forest pass 50 yards for a touchdown. He had a 45-yard interception return against the Tigers last season to kill a Clemson drive. An incredible kick returner, Woerner finished 14th in the nation in kickoff returns in 1977 and has a 22.3-yard average for punt returns this season, a mark that ranks among the nation's leaders.

Another Georgia player who ranks among the national leaders is place kicker Rex Robinson. In 1978 Robinson kicked 15 field goals in 17 tries, a remarkable 88.2 percentage. He also booted 29 straight extra points, giving him a league leading 74 kick-scored points. He has converted 47 straight extra points heading into today's game. Robinson's accomplishments have received much attention, as he was named to Playboy's preseason All-America team last summer.

In 1974, Mike O'Cain directed Clemson to a 28-24 win over Georgia

October 5, 1974, will always stand out as a very special day to me, for on that day, I had the opportunity to play on a Clemson football team that beat the University of Georgia for the first time in 19 years. Just one week before, we beat Georgia Tech in Death Valley, and these back-to-back victories marked the first time since 1906 that Clemson had beaten Georgia and Georgia Tech the same year.

I remember waking up the morning of the game. It was cloudy and looked very much like rain. Being a quarterback on a veer football team, the last thing I wanted was for it to rain. However, by game time the clouds were gone, and it turned out to be a perfect day for football.

This was the first game I was to start since our opening game which we lost 24-0 to a great Texas A & M team, which at the time was ranked #1 in the nation. Senior Mark Fellers and I were battling for the starting job, so especially this time, I wanted to prove myself.

We won the toss and elected to receive. On our first possession we got two quick first downs. I thought we were on our way, but Georgia held us the next series of downs. On our next possession, we had a mix-up in the backfield, and I fumbled on our 37. This led to Georgia's first touchdown, and a 7-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Georgia kicked a field goal to open the second quarter and led 10-0. At this point, I left the game. Mark Fellers came in, and on his running, and the running of Ken Callicutt and Tony Matthews, we went 80 yards for our first TD on Mark's one-yard run. With the score now 10-7, Georgia got a bad snap from center that went over their punter's head. We took over at the Georgia eight and Mark threw to Bennie Cunningham on the first play for a TD, giving us a 14-10 lead at the half.

At this point, I had serious doubts as to whether I would play in this game or not.

The first eight minutes of the third quarter were all defense. Tommy Boozer, Bill Wingo, Guy Gehret and Jimmy Williamson all made big plays to keep Georgia off the scoreboard. On our second possession, Mark Fellers sprained his ankle and had to leave the game. I now had another chance. And on the first play I was back in the game I threw a long pass which was intercepted in the end zone. Georgia took the ball and went 80 yards for a TD and now led 17-14. But we came right back. On a third and three on the Georgia 39, time out was called, and the decision was made to run a quarterback sweep around right end, a play which had been good for us against Georgia Tech. As the play developed, I knew I needed only three yards, so I turned upfield. As I turned, I was fortunate to break a tackle and cut back. The left sideline was wide open; I scored and put us ahead 21-17.

The fourth quarter began in a bad way for Clemson as Georgia scored on the first play. But the Tigers were not to be overcome. We took the ball and marched 68 yards for what was to be the winning touchdown. The drive was highlighted by a 15-yard pass reception by Ricky Bustle and a 10-yard reception by Bennie Cunningham. I carried on a quarterback sneak from the one foot line for the TD. Our defense did their job and stopped Georgia and Clemson took over on its seven yard line with seven minutes to play. This is the part of the game which means most to me. Thanks to Maret Cobb, Curt Buttermore, Ken Peeples, Gary Alexander, and Neal Jetton (our offensive line who played great all day), we took the ball and ran out the clock. It was a great feeling to be able to hold the ball for seven minutes. I would never trade the feeling that I had from seeing the look of frustration on the faces of the Georgia defensive players the last few seconds of the game. I feel that keeping possession of the ball for the final minutes was the key to our win.

Thanks to a great team effort and a never say die attitude, we beat a team that no one, but ourselves, thought we could beat. We never gave up, and on four occasions, had to come from behind.

I remember as a little boy, I would listen to all Clemson games and hope that some day I would get the chance to play for Clemson and be a part of defeating Georgia. To be fortunate enough to experience this was a lifelong dream come true.

THE CLEMSON UNIVERSITY TIGER BAND presents

A TRIBUTE TO GEORGE GERSHWIN

By Andy Ronemus

During halftime of today's game between Clemson University and the University of Georgia, the Tiger Marching Band will pay tribute to George Gershwin by playing a few of his favorite tunes.

The excitement will begin to mount as the band enters the field before the game under the direction of Dr. Bruce Cook, performing "Sock It To 'Em" and ending with "Tiger Rag." Opening each game in this fashion has become a tradition that signifies the start of another Saturday afternoon of Tigermania.

The pregame festivities will continue as Banks McFadden performs the duty of dotting the "i" in Tigers. McFadden was voted the most versatile athlete in the nation for his participation in three sports during the 1939-40 school year. McFadden also has received numerous other honors, including induction into two Halls of Fame.

The Clemson University Chorus and ROTC Color Guard will join the band for the National Anthem and Clemson Alma Mater.

Halftime entertainment will begin with the Georgia Red Coat Marching Band. Their performance features Richard Rogers' "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue," presented in a series of variations ranging from rock to jazz.

The Tiger Marching Band then enters the field to George Gershwin's "Strike Up the Band."

ROW ONE: Leigh Ann Perrin, Flag Corps Captain; Ellen Calvert; Mary Allen, Asst. Librarian; Cathy Rigg, Tigerette Captain; ROW TWO: Kathy Rogers, Asst. Librarian; Joe Ballard, *Asst. "I've Got Rhythm," written in 1934, will be the band's production number featuring the twirlers, flag corps and percussion section. The band will perform this tune in a light rock manner.

The band closes today's show with a group of tunes from Gershwin's folk opera "Porgy and Bess." Included will be "Summertime," "Bess, You is My Woman," "Oh Lawd, I am on My Way" and "I've got Plenty O'Nuttin."

The start of the second half of this dog fight between Clemson and Georgia nears as the band leaves the field under the direction of Mike Schwehr, playing "Tiger Rag."

The band would like to give special thanks to Assistant Basketball Coach Bob Strunk, who will deliver the prayer before today's game.

CLEMSON

Since its founding in 1893, the story of Clemson University has been one of constant growth in an atmosphere of tradition.

Where 446 students first met for courses in agriculture and engineering, more than 11,000 young people now pursue these two fields as well as architecture, education, forestry, industrial and recreational management, textile science, nursing, liberal arts and the social, biological, physical and mathematical sciences.

In terms of academic excellence, the quality of both students and faculty is high. More than two-thirds of the freshmen who entered Clemson this fall graduated in the top 20 percent of their high school classes. The University last year produced two Fulbright-Hays Scholars and a Truman Scholar, and The Tiger was named one of the best student newspapers in the country.

Several Clemson faculty members are officers in major professional societies or editors of major journals. The campus was also the site last year for national and international meetings of poultry scientists and biomaterials researchers.

Though Tillman Hall still stands as a treasured landmark and a symbol of Clemson's heritage, it no longer stands alone. Today the University campus includes 600 acres of academic buildings, student housing, service facilities and equipment valued at $161 million.

In addition to the nuclear campus, Clemson encompasses more than 30,000 additional acres of experimental farms and woodlands throughout the state. Major renovation of Sirrine Hall and Memorial Stadium will be completed this year, and work will begin on a new $4.7 million Pee Dee Research and Education Center for Agriculture near Florence.

The University enters a new era as Bill Atchley takes the administrative helm as Clemson's ninth president. A strong, friendly leader, Atchley will set the pace for continued growth and leadership. Whether it's academics, research or continuing education for South Carolina's economic development, Clemson University leads the way in service to people.

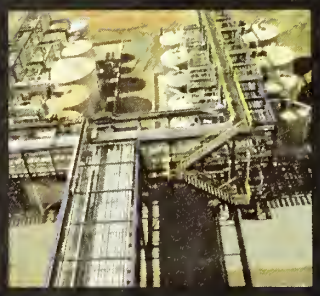
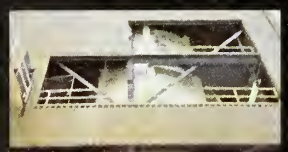
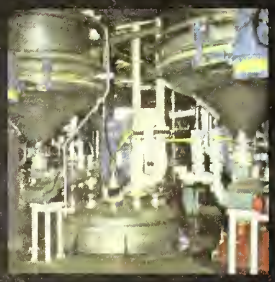
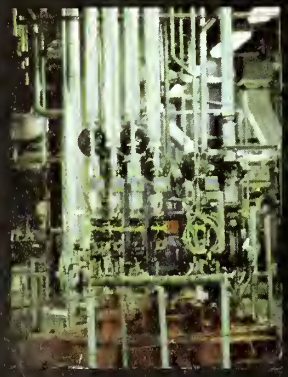
A CONCRETE COMMITMENT









What better way to state a commitment than to put it in concrete. And that's exactly what our new manufacturing plant in Martin, South Carolina signifies — Sandoz' commitment to provide quality dyes and chemicals to the industries we serve.

This new facility, situated on a 4,600 acre tract, represents an initial multi-million dollar investment. The complex, aside from the production unit containing the latest in dye and chemical manufacturing equipment, also includes a modern technical support center, expansive warehouse, administrative offices, and the necessary peripheral structures for power, maintenance and environmental controls.

The Sandoz Martin Works is now on-stream about the same time other sources have changed in mid-stream. Sandoz is committed to the viability of the dye and chemical consuming industries. This is a concrete commitment.

Clemson's Athletic Administration

During 1978-79, Clemson University enjoyed its greatest all-around athletic year ever. This excellence was documented last August when The Knoxville Journal released its annual nationwide all-sports study. The researchers found that Clemson had the fourth best all-around sports program in the United States. Only UCLA, Southern California, and Arkansas scored more points than the Tigers.

And the man directly responsible for the Tigers' rise and continued success among the major college powers is Athletic Director Bill McLellan.

Only the third man to own the title of Athletic Director over the past 48 years, McLellan assumed his present position February 4, 1971, and since that date has directed the Tigers through their greatest decade ever of national athletic prominence. Four years in a row Clemson has been ranked in the top 25 in the all-sports poll.

In all, 18 of Clemson's 19 varsity sports sent an individual or a team to post-season action.

McLellan's dedication to continued growth and development of Clemson's facilities is another major reason for the Tigers' meteoric rise on the sports scene. During his tenure the Tigers have christened the Frank Johnstone Jervey Athletic Center, possibly the most modern and complete complex under one roof, increased the permanent seating of Clemson Memorial Stadium from 43,451 to 53,306, opened a beautiful swimming facility which will be the site of ACC Swimming Championships over the next two years, and constructed a nine-lane all-weather track where the '78 ACC Meet was held.

While he has erected an athletic powerhouse on the varsity level, McLellan has also developed a solid intramural program for the student body which attracts record participation every year. That's why Bill McLellan is recognized as a total athletic director.

A native of Hamer, SC, the 47-year-old McLellan was a two-time football letterman for the Tigers and a member of Clemson's 1952 Gator Bowl team.

He received his BS degree from Clemson in 1954, and his MS two years later.

After joining the athletic staff in 1958, he spent more than a decade with the Tigers as assistant football coach, Assistant Business Manager, Assistant Athletic Director, and Associate Athletic Director before his appointment to his current position.

Assistant Athletic Director Bobby Robinson and Athletic Director Bill McLellan.

But McLellan will be the first man to tell you that many knowledgeable people are needed to run an efficient and successful athletic department. Assistant Athletic Director Bobby Robinson is the catalyst of McLellan's group of responsible aides.

Robinson, now in his 10th year at Clemson and the 1st season as assistant AD, coordinates the business and financial needs for all 19 sports at Clemson. He also serves as the Head Golf Coach.

You don't have to major in Economics to be a Financial Wizard.SM

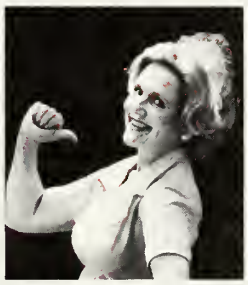
A Financial Wizard knows how to keep her head above water.

You don't even need a college degree. In fact, all sorts of unlikely people are becoming Financial Wizards at C&S these days.

A Financial Wizard can make hay while the sun shines. Or the moon.

Because they can do almost all their banking any hour, any day. Without having to go inside the bank.

If you're a Financial Wizard, you can get money to go, 24 hours a day.



Not just deposits and withdrawals from their checking accounts, but from their savings accounts, too. As well as loan payments, transfers from one account to another, and lots of other kinds of transactions.

Being a Financial Wizard can give your banking a shot in the arm.

And it's really easy to be-come a Financial Wizard. All you have to do is become a C&S customer.

A Financial Wizard can issue orders for an immediate transfer—from one account to another.

You don't have to be a genius to see there are good reasons to be a Financial Wizard.

DO YOU WANT TO FLY?

Face it you've always wanted to fly! Many of us have had the feeling . . . and for some it has never gone away.

If you have that feeling, then you're in luck. Air Force ROTC Flight Instruction Program (FIP) is available to you. It's designed to teach you the basics of flight through flying lessons in small aircraft at a civilian operated flying school.

The program is an EXTRA for cadets who can qualify to become Air Force pilots through Air Force ROTC. Taken during the senior year in college, FIP is the first step for the cadet who is going on to Air Force jet pilot training after graduation.

This is all reserved for the cadet who wants to get his life off the ground . . . with Air Force silver pilot wings. Check it out today.

Danny Ford, Head Football Coach

Nearly 40 years ago Clemson University selected an enthusiastic 31-year-old to lead its football program. At the time, bushy-haired Frank Howard was one of the youngest head coaches in the nation. Now, 40 years later, the Tiger administrators have again selected a youthful mentor to guide the football team.

Danny Ford, who turned 31 last April 2, is the youngest Division I head coach in the NCAA. Despite his youth, he is more than qualified to accept his present duties, for he has been associated with some of the best football programs in the nation.

A 1970 graduate of the University of Alabama, Ford played for three consecutive Bowl teams under the legendary Bear Bryant. The All-Southeastern Conference tackle played in the 1968 Cotton Bowl, the 1968 Gator Bowl and the 1969 Liberty Bowl. An All-SEC Academic selection, he served as team captain of the Crimson Tide in 1969.

After receiving his B.S. degree in industrial arts, Ford remained at Alabama as a graduate assistant for the 1970 and 1971 seasons. After earning a master's degree in special education in 1971, Ford was made a full time assistant for the next two seasons. And the Tide went to four more post-season games while Ford was on Bryant's staff.

Clemson's new mentor then accepted a position of assistant coach on Jimmy Sharpe's staff at Virginia Tech. He remained in Blacksburg for three seasons (1974-75-76), before he was beckoned to Clemson by Charley Pell, who had just been named the Tigers' head coach. Pell and Ford had served together on the VPI staff for two seasons.

When Pell resigned as head football coach at Clemson for a similar position at Florida, the Student Affairs Committee of the Clemson Board of Trustees only considered one name as Pell's successor — Danny Ford. Ford not only had the backing of Pell, but also from members of the Clemson football team. He was then assistant head coach and offensive line coach of the Tigers.

After two meetings between Ford and the committee on the morning of December 5, 1978, it was the unanimous opinion of the committee that Ford should be named Clemson's 21st head coach.

At a press conference on December 10, 1978, Pell relinquished the head coaching duties of the Gator Bowl to Ford. And Clemson's bright new coach responded like a 20-year veteran.

The handsome coach conquered all kinds of adversity in leading the Tigers to a nationally televised 17-15 triumph over perennial national powerhouse Ohio State in the Gator Bowl. Few coaches in NCAA history have made a more celebrated or successful beginning.

Now Ford faces his first full season as a head coach. His 1979 club needs to fill many holes, especially on offense. But solving offensive problems is not new to Ford. He has been given much credit for molding Clemson's offensive scheme, which in the past two seasons, has scored 596 points and set countless offensive records.

The native of Gadsden, AL, is married to the former Deborah Anderson of Attalla, AL, and they are the parents of two daughters, Jennifer, 6, and Ashleigh, 4.

Danny Ford's first Clemson victory as a head coach. Players carry the NCAA's youngest major college head coach from the field after 17-15 Gator Bowl win over Ohio State in 1978.

Use common sense every day. Save a few dollars every month.

With what electricity costs to make and distribute these days, it's just not the dirt-cheap commodity it used to be. And, as a result, your monthly bill is probably higher now.

But remember: the amount of money you're billed each month is determined solely by the amount of electricity you use. And the amount of electricity you use is determined solely by you.

So use it wisely. Turn your thermostat down a few degrees in the winter, and up a few degrees in the summer. Switch off lights you don't need, and appliances you aren't using. Because whenever you waste power, you waste dollars. And it doesn't make sense to do that.

Road trip to Clemson:

The day the sky fell

A high-spirited, shirt-sleeve crowd filled Death Valley for the Georia game. It was Oct. 13, 1962 — and for one freshman trumpeter in the Georgia Redcoat Band, the events to come were unforgettable.

After an explosive first half, the favored Tigers trailed 21-13. As the elegantly clad Redcoats came on the field for their halftime show, the mercury stood at 85. A menacing cloud which rose to the northwest was discounted by Sports Information Director Bob Bradley, who said, "Everybody knows that bad weather never comes from that direction."

Halfway through the show, the native forecasters proved wrong. Hail suddenly bombarded the field, bouncing off tubas and taking its toll on drumheads, many of which were immediately torn. White plumes on shako hats came apart and fell forlornly to the turf.

The band beat a dignified but hasty retreat to the shelter of the end zone seats. A group of Clemson students, including many Tiger band members, offered the 125 bedraggled Redcoats, refuge in nearby dormitories for a drying out and some fresh clothes.

Georgia won the game 24-16, but Clemson students won the everlasting gratitude of the soaked Bulldog bandsmen, who dry-cleaned the borrowed clothes and returned them the next week.

The Georgia trumpeter, who later became band captain, was Horace Fleming. In 1971, after returning from Vietnam, he heard of a position on the political science faculty here. He remembered Clemson and his benefactors on that earlier day which, he said, "told me a lot about the Clemson student body."

Horace got the job and proved to be good at it. This spring, he was named by the Student Alumni Council as Alumni Master Teacher, selected by students as their best professor for the past year. He was then picked by the faculty as their spokesman for the 1979-80 school year — as president of the Faculty Senate.

But it all might never have happened if the skies hadn't fallen on that October day 17 years ago — when Clemson students showed their true colors and came to the rescue of a bunch of beleaguered Bulldog bandsmen.

HONDA PRELUDE

HONDA ACCORD®
4-DOOR SEDAN

At Honda we have never believed in making lots of different types of cars. But 1979 is a different kind of year for Honda. We've introduced two new cars. The Accord 4-Door Sedan and the Honda Prelude. You might say we've opened things up a bit. Literally.

Our new Prelude boasts a power-operated, tinted glass moonroof as standard equipment. The moonroof comes with a manual sunshade, like the window shade on a jetliner.

Not only does our new Accord sedan have four doors, it has a nice, big trunk as well. It also has a lever that allows you to release the lid from the driver's seat.

So if you're thinking about buying a new car, take a close look at our new Hondas. And open the door to simplicity.

We make it simple.

BUBBA BROWN

". . . and the last shall be first"

By Tim Bourret

With the loss of 15 senior starters from Clemson's ACC champions of 1978, the burden of leadership must be inherited by the upperclassmen of 1979. One player Danny Ford can rely on to carry a large bulk of this inanimate need is Bubba Brown.

While many players shy away from accepting the team-leader role, the Tigers' senior linebacker actually loves the responsibility and uses it to motivate himself.

"I really enjoy being the veteran, the man the other players look to. I want to be thought of as the last man Clemson looks to when all else fails. I want the team to feel that if they can't do it, Bubba can take care of it. That gives me a lot of confidence and when I am confident I think it spreads to the rest of the team.

"Many people don't notice it, but I always run on the field last when we go down the hill or come out of the dressing room. It is a way of showing the team that I will always be there in the end if they need me. I've been that way for a long time. I used to run on the field last in Pee Wees."

Coach Ford is aware of Brown's unique asset and he feels it is a prime reason for the Loudon, TN native's excellent play over the last four years. "Bubba Brown is only six feet tall, but he plays like a seven-footer. We have gotten an awful lot out of him for his size. What he lacks in size he makes up in heart.

"Bubba gets after it all the time. He is as aggressive in practice as he is in a South Carolina game. His desire is infectious, and motivates the other players. In situations when we need someone to play better than he is capable of playing, Bubba Brown is the man we look to."

Many people might query Brown as to how he gets so motivated all the time. But, if everyone had his philosophy about the opposition they would never be lackadaisical in anything they do.

"I have been playing football for 14 years and have never done anything different in preparing for a game or practice," said the All-ACC performer. "To me it is better to look at each opponent the same. I consider all my opponents worthy at the start of the game. If they weren't worthy they would not play college football at this level.

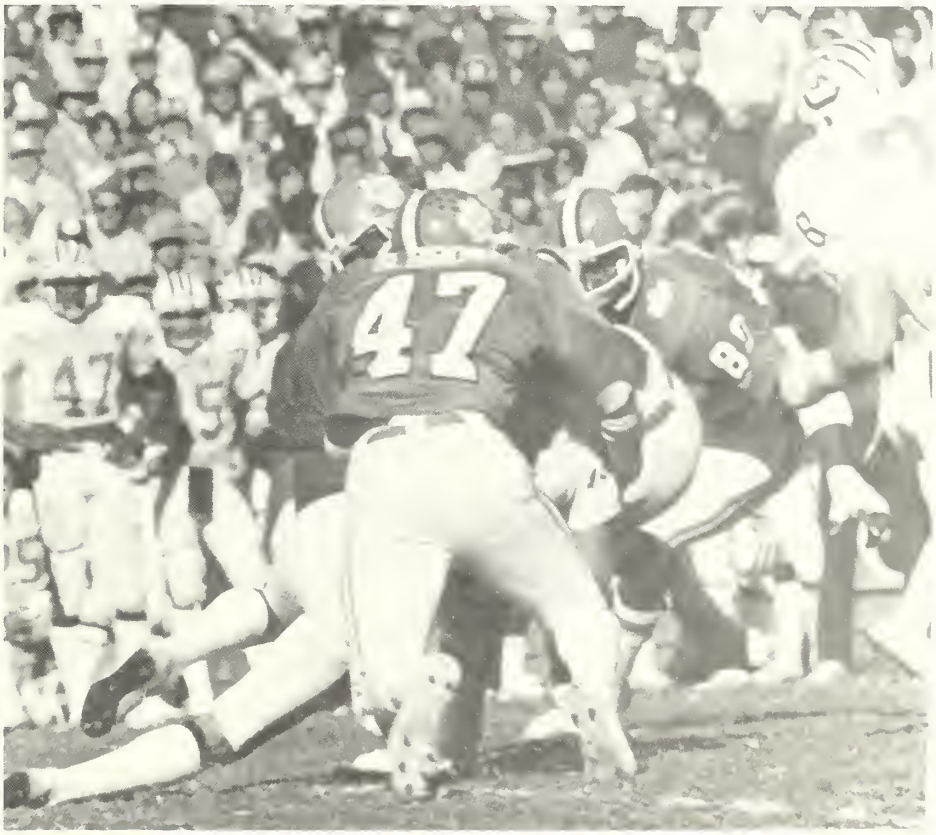
"Then, I say to myself that I am going to prove to these guys and to myself that I am better than them. I want them to remember who that linebacker was. No matter who it is, Furman or Notre Dame, they are going to say that number 47 was tough."

Aside from the assets Brown derives from his cranium and heart, he has put together a pretty solid body. Many say Brown's weight loss between his sophomore and junior seasons have made the difference between a good player and a great player.

"My freshman year I just wanted to make the team. I thought you needed bulk to play college football, so I built myself up to about 235 pounds. But as I played more and more I could see that speed and agility were the two most important assets, especially in our current style of defense. So I lost 20 pounds the summer after my sophomore year. I knew I needed the endurance because I no longer split the time with Ronnie Smith."

In Brown's case he is living proof that there can be an inversely proportional relationship between weight loss and tackles made. In 1978, he led the Tigers with 170 stops. He was especially effective towards the end of the season when he made 102 tackles over the final six games. His most publicized performance in that stretch came against N. C. State when he was named Sports Illustrated's national Defensive-Player-of-the-Week for an 18-tackle, three-sack performance on regional television. He concluded last season with a 22-tackle effort against Ohio State in the Gator Bowl. It was the most tackles by a Clemson player last season.

Statistically, Clemson fans can be assured that Bubba Brown will do his share of the tackling. But they can be even more confident that Bubba Brown will provide his share of the leadership.



"I want to be thought of as the last man Clemson looks to when all else fails. I want the team to feel that if they can't do it, Bubba can take care of it. That gives me a lot of confidence and when I am confident I think it spreads to the rest of the team."

THE FIRST CHEVY OF THE '80s. CITATION. OUR MOST SUCCESSFUL NEW CAR EVER.

Ever since its introduction, people have been flooding Chevy showrooms across the country to see the 1980 Chevy Citation. And according to Retail Delivery Reports, 33,765 units were sold in its first three weeks, more than any new entry Chevrolet has ever introduced.

MID-SIZE ROOM FOR 5.

Citation's engine is mounted sideways, so the passenger compartment can be bigger. In fact, in EPA interior dimensions, Citation is classified as a mid-size car. With the back seat folded down there's room enough for two adults in front and 30 bags of groceries in back.

0 TO 50 IN 9 SECONDS FLAT WITH THE AVAILABLE V6.

In engineering tests, Citation goes from 0 to 50 in 9 seconds flat. That's with available 2.8 Liter V6 engine and automatic transmission. California figures not available. (Citation is equipped with GM-built engines produced by various divisions. See your dealer for details.)

GM
MARK OF EXCELLENCE

EASY ON GAS. 24 EPA ESTIMATED MPG. 38 HIGHWAY ESTIMATE.

That's with Citation's standard 2.5 Liter 4-cylinder engine and manual transmission. (Manual transmission currently not available in California. Calif. estimates lower.)

Citation's standard 4-speed transmission is made to conserve gas. It's an overdrive. And at cruising speeds the 4th gear lets the engine run slower than with a conventional transmission, helping to get impressive fuel economy.

IMPRESSIVE LONG-RANGE CRUISING ESTIMATES, TOO.

And Citation's long-range cruising estimates are just as impressive. 336 miles based on EPA estimated MPG (city) mileage figures, and 532 miles based on estimated highway MPG. Range figures obtained by multiplying Citation's 14-gallon fuel tank capacity rating by the EPA mileage estimates.

REMEMBER: Compare the circled estimated MPG to the estimated MPG of other cars. You may get different mileage and range depending on your speed, trip length and weather. Your actual city mileage and range will be less in heavy city traffic. Your actual mileage will probably be less than the highway estimate.

YOU'VE GOT TO DRIVE IT TO BELIEVE IT.

When you drive Citation you'll see what all the excitement is about. The way it feels. The way it maneuvers. The way it rides. And Citation's front wheel drive puts approximately 65% of its weight over the "driving wheels" to give you impressive traction on wet or snowy roads.

IT'S A WHOLE NEW KIND OF COMPACT CAR.

There's still a lot about Citation that we haven't mentioned. Like slip stream design to cut down on wind resistance and wind noise. The hidden cargo area in all hatchback models, so what's inside is protected from view. A dual diagonal braking system. And much, much more. That's why we encourage you to see your Chevy dealer and test drive the 1980 Chevy Citation today. This could be the car you've had in mind.

ACC COMMENTS: The Wife Of A Head Football Coach

MRS. JERRY (FAYE) CLAIBORNE, Maryland: "The wife af a head faatball caach lives a life na different fram that of any ather waman whase husband is tatally dedicated ta his wark. Yaur life is ane af extremes. Yau share with yaur husband the elatian and sense af achievement and yau share the disappaintment and frustratians. Yau experience a sense af satisfactian watching 18-year-ald bays gain the self-canfidence and maturity they will need ta succeed when they leave schaal faur years later as yaung men. However, there is alsa the added respansibility af sametimes being the anly visible parent ta yaur children because af the lang haurs yaur husband must spend away fram hame. It isn't all excitement and pageantry, at the same time it is never rautine ar humdrum and I wauldn't trade with anyane."

MRS. SHIRLEY (KATIE) WILSON, Duke: "My years as a caach's wife have been exciting, but nat withaut a firm understanding af the tremendaus demands which have ta be met. Being a caach's wife far 28 years has been the only way af life I knaw. Needless ta say it has its valleys and peaks with many plateaus in between. I have shared the jays af many great victaries and endured the pain af aganizing defeats. But still I feel great rewards have resulted thraughaut the years because af the many lasting friendships which have been gained."

MRS. JOHN (ARLENE) MACKOVIC, Wake Forest: "The demands an Jahn's time have a definite impact an aur family. Last year fram August 1st ta January 1st he had five meals with the family. He's gane when the kids get up and they're already asleep when he returns at night. We came ta practice a cauple af times a week sa the kids can spend same time with him. At the games I sit with the wives af the ather caaches. When yau hear a camment abaut a caach ar player it gaes right ta yaur heart. I try nat ta shaw much ematian. I enjay the traveling, meeting ather caaches and their wives. I like ta keep in tauch with many af the wives that I meet. Yau tend ta pull strength fram yaur awn graup. The fact that I have always been interested in sparts makes it a little easier. Peaple dan't realize that it is a year-raund jab."

PHYLLIS BESTWICK

MRS. DICK (PHYLLIS) BESTWICK, Virginia: Phyllis Bestwick became a librarian because she grew tired af packing and unpacking baxes. Maving ane's family every few years is a difficult task, especially when ane is trying ta attend college. Mrs. Bestwick has relacated at six different campuses, earning her B.A. (English and Psychalagy) and M.A. (Library Science) degrees and raised three children while fallawing her husband's caaching career. Sa ane can sympathize when she explains, "I wauld rather get aut af the hause than sew ar garden when Dick is nat here. My wark at the library is interesting and it keeps me busy, sa it's a perfect autlet far me." And athletics? "I'm nat interested in mast athletic events," she says. "I did try jagging far twa days, tennis far an afternaan, and galf twice, but I hurt my elbaw and I've retired ta the stands. I da still enjay watching faatball games, because, like everyane else, I like ta secand-guess the caach!"

MRS. DICK (SHIRLEY) CRUM, North Carolina: "Being the wife af a head coach can invalve same extra duties, but they are really valuntary. Persanally, I like ta be invalved in the faatball aspect af Dick's life. But, sametimes that can be taugh. It's ane af the few exclusively male sparts still in existence. A waman has ta wark ta became a part af it. I try ta da that by gaing ta a lat af practices and getting ta knaw as many af the players as passible. I alsa try ta get the caaches' wives tagether a lat. Generally, my rale is a suppartive ane. I share in the gaad times and the bad anes, taa. But, that's true af all wives. One af the best things abaut being a caach's wife is getting ta live near the University. There is just samething special abaut a callege tawn like Chapel Hill."

MRS. DANNY (DEBORAH) FORD, Clemson: "The pressure, the pace and the demands are hard, but, in reality, this is a dream came true far us, thanks ta sa many peaple. I can't speak fram years af experience, althaugh at age 29, I have been an assistant caach's wife far aver ane third af my life. Being Danny's wife wauld be the same, na matter what the accupatian because af the tatal dedicatian he wauld give any jab he daes. I anly thank the Lard it's ane he laves sa much. Our understanding is that I take care af aur hame and twa daughters in arder far him ta da his jab withaut any reservatians. It's a wanderful feeling ta knaw my husband is fulfilling his purpase and that I can be a part af it."

MRS. ROBERT (SUZANNE) REIN, N.C. State: "It's bath exciting and nerve-racking. I'm glad we sit in an area with State peaple, because they're nice and thaughtful, and they dan't make ugly camments. On game days, I dan't eat. I knaw if I da, I'll get sick. During the seasan, aur hame is like a baarding hause. It seems that we have campany almast cantinuausly. It's hectic, but it's fun — especially when we're winning. I was a basket case aur first year when we had a paar seasan. I warry even when things da ga well, but I warry mare when they dan't. I'm nat superstitiaus, but I avaid all pre-game talk. Haw? I change the subject. It's my way af caping with the situatian. Ba's real gaad. He daesn't take his frustratians and anxiety aut an the family. All in all, things can get pretty hectic. But it's enjayable mast af the time."

JEFF BOSTIC

Jeff Bostic started his career at Clemson as "Joe's little brother," but he has established himself as one of the best offensive linemen in the Atlantic Coast Conference. His brother Joe Bostic was an All-American at Clemson the last two years, while Jeff was snapping the ball to Steve Fuller.

Jeff Bostic

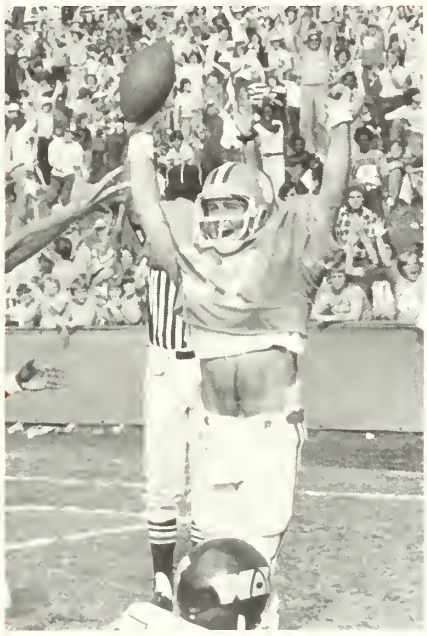
He started 22 of the 23 games he played as a center and he was all-state at center for the last two years. Jeff was twice named ACC player of the week last year, one of only a few linemen to be so named.

He is now the "old man" of the Clemson offensive line as a starting guard and his leadership and experience will be important to the Tigers' young offensive line. Jeff is an odds on choice for all-conference honors this season.

GARY ADKINS

Gary Adkins has distinguished himself as one of the most capable players on the Tigers' specialty teams. Used mostly in a reserve role, he saw quite a bit of action in 1976.

His best year was in 1977 when, as a flanker, he caught two passes for 20 yards, one of which was an 11-yard touchdown from Billy Lott. 1977 also was the year he earned his varsity letter.



Gary Adkins

He saw limited action last year because of a badly sprained ankle, but will be counted on for more action this year.

RICK BASICH

Rick Basich has made more moves than Allied Van Lines. He came to Tigertown as a highly touted running back, but was switched to the secondary in 1977.

Rick Basich

He was sent back to the other side of the line of scrimmage in 1978, where he rushed twice for 10 yards. This past spring he was moved back to the defensive backfield, this time as a free safety.

His versatility on either side of the football makes him one of the most valuable Tigers.

BOB GOLDBERG

Bob Goldberg is a valuable player who has earned a letter the last two seasons as a defensive end and linebacker.

Bob Goldberg

He had four tackles against VPI and Duke and two tackles for losses against Wake Forest last year as he played in every game on defense but the Gator Bowl.

He played linebacker last year and he served as Jonathan Brooks' backup defensive end in 1977, the position he is playing again this year. He is one of the Tigers' most valuable performers because of his ability to play both positions.

CLEMSON CROSS COUNTRY

— A Meteoric Rise to Excellence

By Tim Bourret

Clemson fans have smiles on their faces in the month of September because that month signals the beginning of the fall sports season in Tigertown. At Clemson athletic success is synonymous with this invigorating time of the year. The Tiger football team has won more ACC championships than any other conference school, while I. M. Ibrahim's soccer squad has won the conference title and advanced to the NCAA tournament the last seven years in succession. Now Clemson fanatics can add a third team to the list of traditional first-semester winners.

Clemson cross country has made an incredible rise to national prominence in recent years. The last two years the Tiger harriers have come from nowhere to capture a pair of South Carolina state championships, nine consecutive dual meets and two national rankings among the country's top 25 teams. In 1978 Clemson's improvement reached a significant step, as the Tigers won their first ACC title ever.

The man responsible for this meteoric rise to excellence is Head Coach Sam Colson. "When I came to Clemson one of my first goals was to re-establish the cross country program as a top flight national contender," said the former Kansas University All-American who gained a berth in the 1976 Olympics as a javelin thrower. "Tiger fans have become accustomed to excellence in all sports — and not just on a regional level. We feel we have made great strides in the last two years, but we are not going to stop there."

Colson lost three of his top five runners from last year's successful squad, but the outlook is bright. Three top flight runners and the addition of three more highly regarded freshmen give the Tigers a good shot at defending their conference championship.

"Tiger fans have become accustomed to excellence in all sports — and not just on a regional level. We feel we have made great strides in the last two years, but we are not going to stop there."

Scott Haack is the best harrier on the Tigers' 12-man team. The junior from Winchester, VA has been a first-team all-conference selection his first two years at Clemson and that string should not end this season. "Scott Haack has an excellent chance to be our first All-American by the time he is finished," said Colson.

The former High School All-American has won the South Carolina State Championship the last two years, but his finest effort occurred at the ACC Championships at Raleigh last season when he finished second, leading the Tigers to the conference title.

Wayne Coffman and George Vogel are two more Tigers Colson is counting on for impressive performances. Vogel is in his third season with the Tigers. The Somers, NY native who finished 17th in the ACC meet last year will be counted on to help fill the void left by the graduation of Dave Buechler, Bill Stewart and Tim Frye. Coffman is a junior college transfer from Allegheny Community College who is starting his second season with the Tigers. The former high school teammate of Scott Haack was 15th at the conference meet last year. He had a fine track season last spring and is the Clemson record holder in the 10,000M.

Colson does indeed have a good nucleus of experienced runners, but he will be forced to rely on some rookie help. Three runners stand out among Clemson's six freshman harriers for 1979. Of those newcomers James Haughey may be the best. The Lurgan, Northern Ireland native is one of the top junior class runners in the world. He was Northern Ireland's number-one junior cross country runner last year and competed for his country in the Junior International Cross Country World Championships.

David Kirk joins Haughey as another European prospect that will be counted on for immediate help this year. The Helensburgh, Scotland harrier was Scotland's junior 880-yard run champion last year. Like Haughey he represented his country at the Junior World Cross Country Championships.

Jim Coddington is another rookie likely to be among Clemson's top seven runners. The Rochester, NY resident was one of the top prep runners in the east last season. He finished second in the New York State Cross Country Championships last year. Colson tags the youngster, who has run five miles under twenty-five minutes, as "a very fine and dedicated cross country runner."

Overall, Colson approaches this season with guarded optimism. "North Carolina is the favorite to take the conference title this year because they have their top five runners returning from last season. We snuck up on them last year, and we could do it again.

"If we get consistent seasons out of our returning veterans and if our newcomers mature quickly it could be another successful season."

Sam Colson has turned around the Clemson Cross Country program.

ALUMNI

The tiger, a long-time symbol of strength and aggressiveness for Clemson University, now assumes another prestigious role. The Order of the Silver Tiger is a new giving level recognizing alumni, parents, friends, faculty and staff who have given a minimum of $500 annually to the Clemson University Annual Fund.

Gifts to Clemson University enable deserving students to receive scholarships, add volumes to the Robert Muldrow Cooper Library, bring professors of distinction from other colleges and universities to campus for varying periods to share their expertise, and finance alumni professorships awarded to outstanding faculty members. These are just a few of the ways your gifts will be used to help secure Clemson University's future.

Your gift not only benefits the University, but also entitles you to become a charter member of the Order of the Silver Tiger, a new recognition program for your giving level.

As a Silver Tiger you will be recognized in the Clemson Honor Roll; honored at a special reception during the year and receive this distinctive Silver Tiger desk piece sculptured by Detter Hefner.

Through the Order of the Silver Tiger we can say "Thanks" for all you do for Clemson University.

Clemson and Stevens... working together to make better fabrics for us all.

With the valuable help of Clemson alumni, students and faculty, J. P. Stevens supplies much of the world's quality fabric needs for women's, men's and children's apparel, home furnishings and industry. Tiger alumni, in various management roles, help keep Stevens a recognized leader in the international market place. Clemson students help Stevens plants near the campus maintain high levels of productivity. Stevens and the textile industry as a whole benefit each year from the research and recommendations of Clemson faculty and graduate students.

Clemson and Stevens . . . helping to make better fabrics for us all.

Special Recognition

During the fiscal year 1978-79, Clemson's IPTAY Club experienced its finest year. For the fifteenth consecutive year contributions exceeded those of the previous twelve month period. IPTAY President Reeves Gressette and his staff, along with the more than 500 IPTAY Representatives, led the organization to a record setting year. An increase of almost thirty-eight percent above last year's contributions was realized and the organization achieved one hundred and fifty-six percent of its projected goal.

A LOT GOES INTO AGRICULTURE.

A lot goes into making your farm a success. But you must have a dependable credit source to ensure that you will have money to buy what you need when you need it.

That's where Farm Credit comes in. We provide capital to more farmers than any other lending institution. In fact, that's the only reason we're in business.

Let Farm Credit provide the money you need, when you need it, with repayment plans to suit your situation.

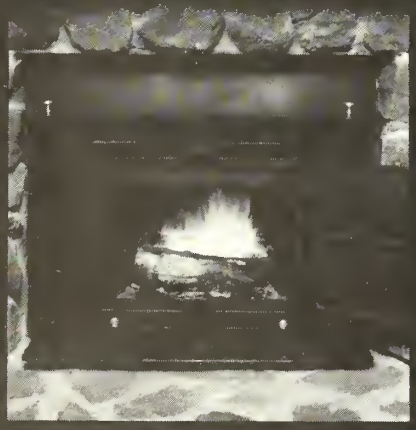
No other woodstove can pass this Ol' Hickory checklist.



- ✓ Heavy-duty firebox of 1/4" welded steel. No thin spots, no hairline cracks.
- ✓ Solid, one-piece, no-warp door of 5/8" cast iron.
- ✓ "Wraparound" heating chamber—top, bottom and sides—with 4 separate forced-air heat outlets.
- ✓ Thermostat-controlled electric fan system.
- ✓ High-efficiency burning. More than 90% of the firewood's heat energy is used to warm your house.
- ✓ Unattended heating time as long as 12 hours.
- ✓ Limited warranty for the LIFETIME of the original owner.

Only OL' HICKORY checks out all the way. And the fireplace model is easily convertible to a free-standing heating stove. One more thing—you'll like OL' HICKORY's square-deal prices.

P.S. TO DEALERS: OL' HICKORY is the hot one for 1979-80. Phone us and get the facts.

Every Tiger Needs a Place to Call His Own

TIGER'S DEN

You or your tiger can use this custom crafted redwood wall plaque to decorate the wall of an office, den or other special place. Each plaque is approximately 7½" x 26" wide x ¾" deep and is crafted from the finest heart redwood, sandblasted, stained and painted by the same craftsman that daily make some of the most exciting new environmental signage on the eastern seaboard.
Each plaque has a stained walnut background with border and letters in beige with our famous tigerpaw in Clemson orange.

These plaques make excellent gifts for special days or as a pleasant surprise for any Clemson fan.

Because these plaques are handcrafted after we receive your order, please allow 2-3 weeks for delivery.

Interior and Exterior signs custom designed for your special needs or hobbies. Personalized tiger wood graphic desk name plate. Write for information concerning our custom designed work.

Please send me _____ Clemson "Tiger's Den" wall plaque(s). I have enclosed my check or money order for $37.50 (plus $1.00 postage and handling and 4% S.C. Sales Tax) for each plaque.

ELECTRICAL - MECHANICAL - CIVIL - CONTRACT MAINTENANCE

This is the world's largest terephthalic acid complex . . . Amoco Chemical Corporation's one billion pounds per year TPA facility, near Charleston, South Carolina. The site, adjacent to deep water, includes ship dock access by ocean-going tankers.

Yeargin Construction built this major new chemical complex. Our thousands of craftsmen provided comprehensive general contractor services in ELECTRICAL, MECHANICAL, and CIVIL project requirements . . . supervision and support services . . . all with our own forces.

We recognize that every industry's problems are unique. So are Yeargin's tailored solutions. As projects grow in size and complexity, effective construction handling becomes more critical. Our FULL SERVICE is an invaluable tool in controlling project costs and quality . . . and, after project start-up and occupancy . . . Yeargin CONTRACT MAINTENANCE service will care for your investment over the years.

You see complete "Grass Roots" production facilities, major expansions to existing manufacturing plants, institutional and commercial buildings . . . built by Yeargin . . . all over the Sun Belt.

As you plan your facilities growth . . . a new plant, or an addition . . . call Yeargin! Whether it's 1, 100, or thousands of craftsmen you need, we have the strength, the resources, the technical back-up, the commitment to quality, and P-R-I-D-E experience to do your job well in these, and other industries . . . • chemicals • pulp & paper • textiles • synthetic fibers • power generation . . . (field erected steam generators & precipitators) • aluminum reduction • steel • foundaries • metal fabrication • heavy assembly • tire & rubber • glass • petro-chemical • plastics • film • machine tools • nuclear products • food processing • pharmaceuticals • tobacco • furniture.

We're Yeargin Construction . . . The P-R-I-D-E builder. The Yeargin team understands P-R-I-D-E performance makes selecting Yeargin as your builder a satisfying decision. We know you want a dependable schedule, quality construction, innovative performance, and a cost estimate you can depend on. We deliver . . . with P-R-I-D-E!
